All things Supportive Seating: Moving beyond 90/90 sitting to a user-centered solution

Supportive seating is probably the most widely used piece of therapy equipment in a child's 24-hour postural management plan. Thanks to advancements in therapy techniques, technical innovations and a user-centered design approach, there has been a notable shift in the equipment provided in recent years. There is now a growing recognition that the child's age, developmental stage, task, ability and environment all play crucial roles in both shaping and being shaped by the support provided leading to a more nuanced approach to supportive seating across the day.

This seminar will delve into the transformative potential of supportive seating, offering practical insights into developing personalised seating plans that safeguard health and maximise function as children grow and develop.

Transition to adult services for young people with complex neurodisabilities

Leaving a special school is a frightening prospect for many young people and their families. Transitioning to Adult Services for those with complex neurodisabilities demands a great deal of support from carers and professionals to help young people, their parents, and carers during this time. In this presentation, I explain the challenges facing families, what defines successful transition and what we do at Chailey Heritage Foundation currently to try and achieve this.

I will also talk about the future and what we need to happen. The experience we've gained at Chailey Heritage Foundation in recent years working with families throughout the transition process will be of value and interest to others who are facing the same experience – either as a parent, carer, family member, or professional. I will also reference current APPG work and legislation on the topic.

An audience with the Whizz Kidz Board

The Whizz Kidz Board are a group of young wheelchair users representing Whizz Kidz around the country. Each one has their own experience of being a wheelchair user including going to university, navigating transition from education to employment, barriers to education and the equipment they have received.

Through a Q&A session of up to half an hour (to include Q&A from the audience), Whizz Kidz Board will share their experiences and the work they are doing to help other young wheelchair users around the country.

The Whizz Kidz Board will link this back to the key skills and equipment that they have found supported them on the journey (whether this is through Whizz Kidz or other organisations).

The session will run as a Q&A between Ella and Jo Fashan.

Supporting the mental health of individuals with complex communication needs

Recent research indicates that the rate of mental health issues is much higher among those with complex communication needs (Watson, Reghavendra, & Crocker, 2021). This group are more likely to experience abuse, stress, anxiety, and ableism, which can contribute significantly to mental health issues.

This talk will cover ways we can best support and safeguard people who use Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC), so that they have access to and understand how and when to use language to discuss their mental health and wellness.

Setting up the environment for vision and packing a positive looking to-go bag

Vision is the major way children learn and understand the world, yet it's often the most overlooked sense and sits at the bottom of the agenda. Simple easy steps to creating a vision friendly environment and resources which create a valuable starting point will be demonstrated practically.

You'll take away easy to source resources and a useful range of ideas that can be implemented immediately. These approaches are simple, doable and possible by everyone and will support you to move vision up the agenda for children with vision impairment.

Risky Business – The benefits of positive risk taking.

Risk is a necessary and important part of life for all of us, but for professionals and carers there is a strong emphasis on managing risk and protecting our clients from harm.

There may be a potential to be over cautious which can result in limiting an individual's choices, quality of life, experiences and development.

Although there can be challenges with positive risk-taking, taking well-calculated, managed risks can lead to enjoyable experiences for our clients and help them retain their independence as much as possible.

Positive risk management does not mean trying to eliminate risk. It means managing risks to maximise people's choice and control over their lives.

Understanding about how best to support children develop required skills has evolved and includes an increased awareness of some specific issues.

This seminar will discuss some of the difficulties, including challenges due to differences in processing, sensory issues, mobility issues and communication styles.

It will also offer suggestions for techniques to support children achieve their potential to be clean and dry.

The seminar is relevant for families and professionals supporting children with any additional need or disability, including autism, developmental differences, learning or physical disability.

Stand With Me: Supported standing for complex postures

This seminar will discuss the importance of supported standing for children with complex physical disability. We will look at some of the issues that can arise with complex physical postures in standing and provide considerations to help address them. This will give therapists more confidence on how to approach such barriers and to critically evaluate what the child-centred goals of standing can be.

We will utilise clinical evidence to help show standing can still be an integral part of the 24-hour postural care programme for children with more postural and medical complexity.
